oth Halloween and Bonfire Night fall in the middle of the autumn apple harvest, so it is no surprise that The Toffee Apple is synonymous as a treat at this time of year.

Bonfire Night in the UK, is also known as Fireworks Night and Guy Fawkes' Night, and of course remembers the failed Gunpowder Plot that tried to blow up the Houses of Parliament. No comments please - on how each of us is feeling about parliament currently!!! But I wouldn't be surprised if a few burning effigy's this year take on the look of the odd politician or two, ha!

Whether you are enjoying a few sparklers in the garden, or are going to an organised fireworks event, why not make some home-made treats? There really is no end to how you can decorate an apple...

What do you need:

Apples – Choose whatever eating apples you like the taste of. Sharper apples like Granny Smith's can work well in contrast to the sweet coatings.

Sticks – You can use lolly sticks, sturdy straws, skewers or even twigs (great for that witchy feel).

Coating – This could be traditional red sticky toffee, caramel coating or even chocolate (read on for recipe ideas).

Toppings – Go wild! This could be sprinkles, chocolate, nuts, crushed biscuits/cereal – whatever you fancy.

Coating Options:

For Toffee Apples all you need is caster sugar, vinegar and golden syrup. Plus, possibly food colouring, if you want that bright red shine!

Why not try BBC Good Food's recipe: www.bbcgoodfood.com/recipes/13599/homemadetoffee-apples

You could try Caramel Apples, you will need sugar, maple syrup, golden syrup, butter and double cream - very indulgent!

Food Network has a recipe: www.foodnetwork.co.uk/recipes/caramel-apples.html

Of course, if you are a chocolate lover – then this might be the only option for you. For Chocolate Apples you literally need chocolate. Choose a dark, milk or white chocolate or combination, that complements your apple choice.

All Recipes gives you step by step instructions: http://allrecipes.co.uk/recipe/6056/chocolate-dippedapples.aspx

Whatever you make, enjoy... It is one of your 5 a day!

WHO ARE MY GUIDES?

I am often asked who are my guides? How do I know when they are with me, and what are their messages to me? I can tell you that we all have guides. I know mine through the work I do, sometimes a new one appears, and older ones stand back, it's quite a fluid arrangement. Working mediums do work closely with guides, because getting to know your guides is an essential element of professional development and continuous development. Guides work with us to help us do the work. So, a working medium does have a working knowledge of their guides, because it is more like a partnership.

However, we all have guides. Each one of us is an eternal soul. We may have had many lives, and at each incarnation, we are born, live on the earth plane then we return to spirit. We are spirit, while we are on the earth plane, the spirit has a physical body to wear, a bit like a jacket, over the inner core, the invisible spirit within. The iacket is not built to last, it is a vehicle for earthly life, but we are eternal spirit, so we return home once the jacket no longer functions. The jacket, in that sense, becomes irrelevant, the spirit continues its evolutionary journey.

THE THEORIES

There are lots of books and theories about what I am giving here, and some of them make sense to me, but my work is about giving what spirit gives me. So, I am not attaching theories to my explanation here, because neither my guides, or loved ones, have given me any back up on the theories. I believe we evolve in this life; we learn lessons here on the earth plane, all of us, and we are definitely eternal in the sense that only the body dies.

WORKING with GUIDES

We all have a purpose

born to create huge shifts in societal EVOLVED SOULS

Guides are however, highly evolved reason. The number one reason is our souls. They are capable of divine, unconditional love and acceptance. Something which is very hard to practice on the earth plane. They channel peace and growth to us, they have lessons to teach to those who want to work closely with them, but it is not a demand. Again, existences, no hierarchy from a spiritual guides never instruct or demand, just support. They do not have egos. For us, this might be a kind of requirement of earth plane life, and a necessity at times, for self-protection. Identity is a social construct, so without identity and ego, they don't need us to know who they are or who they were. Working with them to raise your own vibration is all they seek to achieve, they might give you an identity to help you relate, but it is not important to the guides.

To work with your guides, or at least receive assurance that they are with you, it is the same fundamentals of opening to spirit. Putting your logical and rational mind on pause, and just allowing This is the phrase that I would encourage you to work with, 'allow spirit to make themselves known to you'. I say this because they are always there, the only real block is ourselves. Temporarily suspend any doubt, just have faith and allow. It takes practice, so don't be discouraged if you try it repeatedly, and get nothing. This happens to me sometimes, so don't feel it is a failure or you can't learn You can, I have, and you can, I fail. that's fine, that is normal, lust don't stop experimenting.

THEY ARE

UNCONDITIONAL

LOVE AND

POWERFUL HEALING

Allow the guides to give what they need to, allow the feelings, the sensations, the images to form without censorship or judgement. Accept that it might take time for the meanings to be revealed to you. Practice and familiarity helps, and don't be surprised if they crack a joke with you. Guides are just like your best friend, they never let you down, they never deceive you, and they are always the best company. As long as you are ready and willing, your guides will give you everything you ask for, and more, especially healing. Guides can give powerful healing when you need it, and because they come from a place of unconditional love, they will give to others if you ask them to.

In the tradition of spiritualist mediumship, the theory is that we do not give guides in a reading, because unlike loved ones, guides cannot be evidenced. Unless of course, you have already met your guides, then it is wonderful confirmation that you are on the right path. However, I do give guides if one comes through in a reading, because my personal view is the medium should not censor what is being given. Guides rarely come through in a sitting, because your task is to work with them yourself, and that is part of the discipline that is needed to work with spirit.

ACCEPT THEY ARE THERE

Not everyone wants to work with spirit, or wants to meditate to meet their guides, and that is fine with the guides. You can still connect to your guides for yourself, more simplistically. You don't need to work at seeing them if you follow the one simple rule of total trust. Totally trust they are there, that they hear your prayers, thoughts, requests and they will answer them. Even if it takes a winding path and a bit of time, they always deliver. Offer your unconditional love to them, as they surround you with theirs.

The Silent Illness!

Could the Angelic Kingdom help relieve your Stress?

Most of us will have periods in life that cause us stress, from major life events like moving house and having a baby, to dealing with illness or changes in work circumstances, to name a few.

Of course, each of us will deal with stress in our lives differently. Some tolerate stress very well, even thriving under a bit of pressure or a hard deadline. Whist others will feel under the weather quite quickly and may turn to vices like food or drink to cope.

When stress becomes an everyday part of life:

If you have been under stress for a long time, then you may now be noticing daily symptoms, for example:

- Sleep problems
- Headaches
- General feelings of fatigue
- An inability to concentrate for long periods
- Feeling easily irritated

You may have reached a stage where you think, you might want some support in managing the stress in your life. Welcoming angels into your life may be part of the solution!

How can Angels help?

You already know that Angels reside in the spirit world and act as messengers. Many believe that they are also there to offer us protection and guidance, throughout our lives, particularly in difficult times.

But, to obtain their loving energy – we do need to reach out and seek their support. This is partly because their role is not to pass judgement on us, or to interfere with the path in life we choose at any moment in time. But they will provide a helping hand when needed.

Many find that just the act of reaching out to an Angel, and temporarily placing the stresses you are dealing with in the hands of someone else for a while, can bring about a sense of calm. Sometimes it also allows you to gain some perspective and see solutions from a higher power. Hopefully you will feel empowered to move forward, feeling a healing energy surrounding you.

Angel Reading

How to Get Checked

If you are concerned, or have any other health factors or symptoms then you should see your GP.

Otherwise, your pharmacy may well offer a blood pressure check.

It is worth knowing that some people get 'white coat hypertension', i.e. they get a false high reading, as a result of nerves and being in a medical setting. In these cases, it can be useful to purchase a machine and take regular readings at home to get a benchmark.

know what you are thinking, this is the November edition? So, why am I featuring a Christmas film? Well, this movie does have a Christmas back-drop, but really it is a fun-loving, light-hearted British rom-com, that just happens to be out in UK cinemas from the 15th November 2019.

The Cast

Emma Thompson features in the film, but she is also one of the writers. In fact, the film was inspired by a George Michael song 'Last Christmas'. George Michael was involved in the early stages of the film, but sadly he passed away before the project really got off the ground.

The two lead roles are played by Emilia Clarke (our cover star), who you might well recognise from Game of Thrones, and Henry Golding, whom you may know from Crazy Rich Asians'. The two of them play star-crossed lovers.

The Theme

If you are familiar with the 1984 hit – Last Christmas, then you will know it deals with the topics of lost love and unrequited love. And, so the theme of the film follows...

Emilia Clarke plays the role of Kate, she actually works as an Elf, but in an all-year-round Christmas shop. You might imagine that would make her happy, cheeky and full of festive spirit, but in reality, she has been through a lot and she is more scared and cynical. Perhaps not what the shop owner imagined or wanted from a Santa helper!

Emma Thompson is known for being an activist, and so it may come as no surprise that this is a more dramatic type of romantic comedy, that also deals with some more emotional topics along the way. Family, illness, homelessness, immigrants and generally people trying to repair their lives are running themes throughout the film.

Christmas NOVEMBER 8

The Music

Whilst the music is important in any film, this movie is not a musical. But George Michael fans will be delighted to learn that it does contain some unreleased music, as George was working on his new album when he passed away.

The Trailer

The trailer actually sparked some internet guessing about the male lead, with many surmising he was not alive in the film, but a ghost who only speaks to Kate.

Paul Feig – the Director has been keen to advise that the film is a nice Christmas story, and not a complicated 'Matrix' type film! "Anything anybody thinks they know about this movie is not correct." Only time will tell...

let's frak fak fak cards

ift Cards can make a great present, they can be bought in small or large denominations, depending on who the present is for. They allow the recipient to choose something they will love.

However, there is no doubt that the retail landscape is changing, and with Brexit raging on, this doesn't look like it will alter any time soon. Many businesses go bust in the first few months of the year, if they have not made enough money during the Christmas period.

So, it is worth knowing a little bit more about Gift Cards, and your rights surrounding them...

 Not all cards are equal. Check the Terms & Conditions before buying. The best option is to choose a card that can be used both in-store and on-line.

• It is worth knowing that some brands will only let you use a Gift Card in a stand-alone store, not for example if they have a concession stand within a department store.

• When House of Fraser went into administration, there was a lot of uncertainty around them honouring existing gift cards. If you have heard any rumblings about a business struggling, for smaller gifts – cash may be safer.

• It can be worth finding out the expiry dates of any Gift Card, and highlighting this to the recipient. There is a high variance within this market as to how long you have to spend the money. Some stores offer no expiry date – the best kind, others offer a generous 2 years, but many shops will expect you to spend them within 6 months, or forfeit the money! • A good rule of thumb, is to spend a Gift Card shortly after receiving. Purchasing Pre-Paid Master/Debit Cards, as opposed to Gift Cards, can also give the recipient a wider choice of what to spend the money on. Thereby eliminating the holding on to it whilst they decide what they need.

• If you are thinking about spending a larger amount of money, for example $\pounds 100$ or more. Then paying for the Gift Card with a Credit Card would be a good idea. As this would trigger Section 75 under the Consumer Credit Act, meaning if the business got into trouble and did not honour the gift card, your card provider would be jointly liable for the purchase. There are rules around making a claim – so act fast.

• If you are giving to children in the family, nieces and nephews whether old or young, it may be worth investigating whether they would prefer money being sent into a savings vehicle. Perhaps they have a Junior ISA, or a Lifetime or Help To Buy ISA?

I had a reading with Jasmine. She was wonderful. She was spot on about the nature of my kind and caring and clever autistic son, my current housing situation, my feelings, and passed on some really important and wonderful messages from her guide. I am now feeling calmer and looking forward to the next few years with work and my house move, and a future trip to America I was told about. An amazing reading! Thank you, Jasmine. Cas

I am totally blown away by Jasmine, she needs so little information and is transparent, open and honest. I felt so reassured by her words, because of their authenticity. She is explicitly real, does not tell you what you want to hear, which is what I want from a reader, she has highlighted the way ahead. Claudia

Love & Relationship Readings

Many clients come to Psychic Light because they can't understand a person's actions or feelings in a certain situation. After a Love & Relationship reading, they may walk away understanding exactly why things have played out a certain way, or knowing why a potential suitor is behaving as they are.

and requirements and realise upcoming possibilities. Making them more effective at making major decisions about romantic situations and their love-life in general.

A Psychic may also be able to assess whether you and a potential partner are compatible, as well as examining whether thoughts and feelings are really reciprocated. A psychic reading can provide insight into certain issues that may be holding you back from finding love, and guide you in addressing them. Common concerns include: an inability to let go of a past relationship, difficulty acknowledging the potential of a certain situation, and assumptions that are based on hopes or desires rather than fact or reality.
